

energy
[r]evolution

OIL SPILL IMPACTS

We're performing an independent assessment of the Gulf oil spill... join us.

The latest updates

- News
- Images
- Videos
- Reports
- Media releases

any category

Let's Organize an Energy Revolution

Blog by Robert Meyers | October 7, 2010 2 comments

I came to Gulf of Mexico hoping to see a whale, but instead I saw a lot of oil rigs. At no time during our 513 nautical mile (950 km) voyage from Galveston, Texas, out around the Deepwater Horizon oil spill site into Gulfport,... Read more >

+ Share ▼

13 retweet

f Like 5

White House hid the truth on spill: The truth and the oil is still out there.

Blog by Phil Radford | October 6, 2010 2 comments

The President's National Oil Spill Commission released preliminary findings today from its investigation into BP's oil spill disaster in the Gulf of Mexico. And its initial findings will cause at least two major headaches, I mean... Read more >

+ Share ▼

retweet

f Like 7K

Congress Fails to Prevent Toxic Chemical Disasters

Blog by John Deans | October 1, 2010

The US Congress has done it again: NOTHING . The biggest environmental issues they have been charged with tackling have gone untouched in lieu of playing politics. Among the top overlooked dangers was the security of the... Read more >

+ Share ▼

4 retweet

f Like 36

→ Home

- Take action
- Donate
- What we do
- News and Blogs
- Multimedia
- About Us

Subscribe

Sign up for action alerts.

Enter your E-mail address

First name

US Zip

SIGN UP

Follow us on...

Where's all the oil gone?

Blog by Dave Walsh | September 30, 2010 4 comments

The Arctic Sunrise is currently alongside in Galveston Texas – the winches and other equipment that was used on the most recent leg have been craned off, and out on deck, a whole lot of new equipment is being welded on for the... Read more >

Share

35 retweet

Like 45

Protect People, Not Polluters

Feature story | September 28, 2010

Highlighting the need for federal standards to protect public health from hazardous coal waste, activists unfurled a banner reading EPA: PROTECT PEOPLE, NOT POLLUTERS – QUIT COAL at an EPA public hearing in Louisville, KY. Read more >

Share

retweet

Like

It's Time to Act on Coal Ash

Blog by Robert Gardner | September 28, 2010

This morning activists unfurled a banner at the Seelbach Hotel in Louisville that read "EPA: PROTECT PEOPLE, NOT POLLUTERS." The peaceful protest was held at the location of EPA's Coal Ash public hearing on two vastly different... Read more >

Share

2 retweet

Like 4

Sinar Mas Achieves New Low

Blog by rskar | September 27, 2010 1 comment

Just when you thought things couldn't get any worse for forest-destroyer Sinar Mas, they did. The latest news shows Sinar Mas is in jeopardy of being kicked out of a palm oil industry group we didn't know you... Read more >

Share

6 retweet

Like 41

Oil on the bottom of the Gulf

Blog by Kert Davies | September 27, 2010 1 comment

Now that was a totally new experience! Last night I got to touch clay and mud fresh from the bottom of the sea, 1,300 meters (4,000 feet) deep in the Gulf of Mexico. That was fun. Today we pulled up a sample and opened the lid to see... Read more >

Share

24 retweet

Like 50

Previous

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

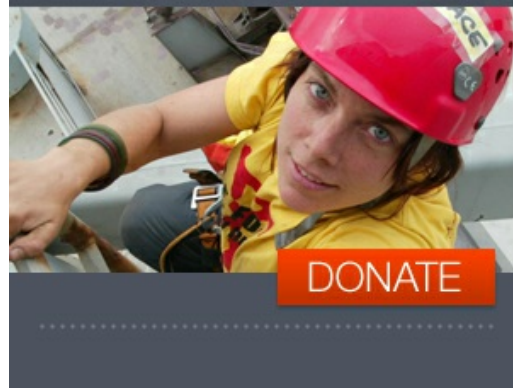

20

Next

1 - 8 of 1947 results.

Donate today

We are independent and rely on people like YOU who make our work possible.

DONATE

twitter

Join the conversation

Students: Be the change!

Spend an action-filled semester with Greenpeace.

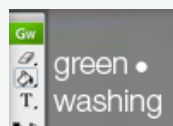

APPLY NOW

PolluterWatch

ExxonSecrets

Stop Greenwash

Investigations

Greenpeace online

Facebook
 Myspace
 Flickr
 Twitter
 YouTube

Stay up-to-date

E-mail newsletter
RSS Feeds

Take action

Get involved
Jobs and internships
Greenpeace Organizing Term
Greenpeace Student Network

Donate

Renew your membership

Greenpeace Fund

Make a tax-deductible donation
Gift and estate

Greenpeace worldwide

Learn more

Global warming
Oceans
Forests
Toxics Nuclear Sustainable

About us

History
Victories
Ships
Jobs and internships
Copyright

Media/ Blogger Center

Press contacts
Experts

Dig Deeper

Research
Polluter Watch
ExxonSecrets
Whistleblower

Where are the ships?

View Larger Map